"L'autore ""Like a modern day vagabonding beat poet, the possible love-child of Patti Smith and Charles Bukowski ? Eriksson is a rare soul in today's society. Carefully balancing between wanting to defy the world, and wanting nothing more than to be a part of it."" Charlotte Eriksson (The Glass Child) is an author, songwriter, dreamer and wanderer from Sweden, but is currently living somewhere on the road in Europe. She's published four books of prose and poetry, telling stories of growing up, searching for a home, life on the road and learning how to bloom in solitary places. She's become a prolific writer with book quotes and writings published on sites such as Thought Catalog, Bella Grace Magazine, To Write Love On Her Arms, The Artidote, Berlin Artparasites, and Rebelle Society. As a songwriter, Charlotte has released 7 EPs + 3 critically acclaimed full-length albums under the artist name The Glass Child, and she is the founder of Artist Collective ""Broken Glass Records"". ""I believe in writing your own story, and that's what I'm doing here. Do you wait for things to happen or do you make them happen yourself?"" Prose can be written with extra attention to its beauty in which case it is called poetic prose and poetry can be written with less attention to its sound in which case it is called prosaic poetry but the essential distinction remains having just stated what i ve stated i need to emphasize that it is an over simplification. Don t worry about fine tuning your prose until you ve got the bigger problems of your story under control you can t polish a silver bowl until it s been smelted and cast just so with a story of course you can t help doing some fine tuning at the same time you re solving other bigger problems that s natural. Creativity is just connecting things when you ask creative people how they did something they feel a little guilty because they didn't really do it they just saw something it seemed obvious to them after a while that's because they were able to connect experiences they've had and synthesize new things into jobs.
